Coronavirus toll reaches 908, WHO sends team to China

Beijing: The death toll in China's coronavirus outbreak has gone up to 908 while 97 new fatalities were reported mostly in the worst-affected Hubei province and the confirmed cases of infection crossing 40,000, Chinese health officials said on Monday, as a team of international experts led by the WHO set to arrive in Beijing to help contain the epidemic.

According to China's National Health Commission, 91 deaths were reported in Hubei province, the epicentre of the pandemic, two in Anhui, and one each in Heilongjiang, Jiangxi, Hainan and Gansu.

There were 97 deaths and 3,062 new confirmed cases of the lethal infection on Sunday, it said.

A total of 908 people have died of the disease and 40,171 confirmed cases of the outbreak have been reported in 31 provincial-level regions so far, it said.

Another 4,008 new suspected cases were reported on Sunday. A total of 126 patients have recovered, while 6,484 patients remain in severe condition and 23,589 people were suspected of being infected with the virus. A total of 3,281 people have been discharged from hospital after recovery, it said.

The commission said 3,991 lakh close contacts had been traced, adding that among them, 29,307 were discharged from medical observation on Sunday, while 1.87 lakh still under medical observation.

By the end of Sunday, 36 confirmed cases, including one death, had been reported in Hong Kong, 10 confirmed cases in Macau and 18 in Taiwan.

At least 100 cases of coronavirus have been reported, including from three from Kerala. A team of international experts led by the World Health Organisation (WHO) would arrive in China on Monday night to assist the Chinese health officials to contain the spread of the coronavirus.

55 more cases on Japan cruise ship, says Govt

Tokyo: Another 65 people aboard the quarantined Diamond Princess cruise ship moored off Japan have been diagnosed with novel coronavirus, the health ministry said Monday, bringing the total number of known infections to 135. The Diamond Princess has been in quarantine since arriving off the Japanese coast early last week after the virus was detected in a former passenger who got off the ship last month in Hong Kong.

Test results from 103 people now come out and 65 of them have tested positive for the new coronavirus, the ministry said in a statement without giving further details such as their nationalities. PTI

WHO warns overseas coronavirus spread may be 'tip of the iceberg'

Geneva: The head of the World Health Organisation said on Monday there have been "contaminating instances" of coronavirus among people with no travel history to China. The detection of a small number of cases may indicate more widespread transmission in other countries; in short, we may only be seeing the tip of the iceberg, as he urged all countries to prepare for the possible arrival of the virus that has killed over 900 people.

Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus lauded the doctors, nursing and health workers for doing "their utmost" at personal risk to contain the epidemic, terming them "true heroes" of the outbreak that first surfaced in December in Wuhan city in China's central Hubei province where millions of people are under lockdown in a bid to stop it from spreading.

"There've been some concerning instances of onward 2019nCoV spread from people with no travel history to China. The detection of a small number of cases may indicate more widespread transmission in other countries; in short, we may only be seeing the tip of the iceberg," as he urged all countries to prepare for the possible arrival of the WHO.

Ghebreyesus said the spread of coronavirus outside China appeared to be slowing, but could accelerate, warning that any breach in solidarity is a victory for the virus. "Containment remains our objective, but all countries must use the window of opportunity created by the containment strategy to prepare for the virus' possible arrival," he said. PTI

EU calls emergency talks

Brussels: The European Union will host an extraordinary meeting of health ministers on Thursday, along with a WHO envoy, to discuss the novel coronavirus outbreak.

So far, only around 30 cases of the new strain have been detected in Europe.

Now is the time to join forces to stop this epidemic," said European Commissioner for Crisis Management, Jean-Luc Lacouture. The EU Ministers' days ways to prevent the virus spread and adopt contingency measures in relation to the EU response to the novel coronavirus outbreak. APP

Boko Haram kills, abducts dozens in northeast Nigeria

Kano (Nigeria): Boko Haram jihadis killed at least 30 people and abducted women and children in a raid in northeast Nigeria's restive Borno state, a regional Government spokesman said on Monday.

On Sunday evening targeted the village of Auna on a key highway linking to regional capital Maiduguri.

The jihadis stormed in on trucks mounted with heavy weapons, killing, burning and looting before kidnapping women and children, state government spokesman Ahmad Abdurrahman Bundi said.

They aimed at travellers who had stopped for the night and torched houses.

The attackers "killed not less than 30 people who are mostly tourists and destroyed 18 vehicles," Bundi said in a statement. Some 25 kilometres (15 miles) west of Maiduguri, occurred in an area where fighters from the Islamic State-West Africa Province (ISWAP) have been active, mounting roadblocks to target security forces and civilians. Palestinians withdraw request for UN vote on US Mideast plan: Diplomats

United Nations: The Palestinians have abandoned their request for a vote at the UN Security Council on Tuesday on rejecting the US Mideast plan, over concerns of international support, diplomats said.

Introduced by Indonesia and Tunisia, the resolution risked not having nine out of 15 votes in its favor, the minimum required for adoption provided there is no veto by a permanent member, the diplomats told AFP. Palestinian president Mahmud Abbas is set to take part Tuesday in a session on President Donald Trump's January 28 plan, which the US wants to advance the cause of peace.

The Jordanian Palestinian withdrawal of their request came after the United States — which enjoys veto power as a permanent member — proposed a series of amendments that could come for a vote at the session attended by Abbas. APP

Israel attacks Hamas 'terror targets' after projectile: Army

Jerusalem: Israeli forces attacked Hamas positions from the air early on Monday, the army said, after militants in the Palestinian enclave fired a projectile at the Palestinian leadership in the West Bank and Gaza.

It will also cut out a line stating that Jewish settlements built in the West Bank since 1967 are illegal, a position taken by virtually every country except the US and Israel.

The United States is also seeking to eliminate language that equated East Jerusalem with the occupied West Bank.

The Trump plan calls for recognition of the contested holy city as Israel's undivided capital, while establishing a Palestinian capital on its outskirts. While recognizing that the "Trump plan" departs from the traditional two-state model, it proposes a "comprehensive" peace deal.

A spokeswoman for the regional council in Shaar HaGai, just northeast of Gaza, said the projectile apparently hit an open field.

Israeli strike in Syria jeopardised civilian jet: Russia

Moscow: Russia's Defense Ministry said on Friday that a passenger jetliner in Syria was endangered by Israeli fighter jets that used it as shield while striking the suburbs of Damascus the previous day.

The allegation comes as tensions run high in Syria, where fighting is between the army and the northern province of Idlib.

Syrian government forces backed by the Russian military, have clashed with Turkish troops that support the opposition there after failing to agree on its future political direction after losing votes to the far right.

Anigrat Kramp-Karrenbauer told leading members of the Christian Democratic Union that she won't be seeking the chancellorship in next year's election, upending Merkel's plans to hand her the reins after more than 15 years in power.

Merkel's spokesman Steffen Seibert told reporters in Berlin that Germany's long-time leader stood by her decision not to run for a fifth term in 2021, despite the latest development.

Merkel's party in crisis as successor quits

Berlin: German Chancellor Angela Merkel's dedicated inner circle has split in the tussle on Monday plunging her conservative party into deeper crisis as it struggles to agree on its future political direction after losing votes to the far right.

Anigrat Kramp-Karrenbauer told leading members of the Christian Democratic Union that she won't be seeking the chancellorship in next year's election, upending Merkel's plans to hand her the reins after more than 15 years in power.

A spokesman for the liberal Free Democratic Party did not respond to a request for comment. Israel rarely acknowledges strikes carried out in Syria.

Israel

has repeatedly struck Syrian and Iran-linked targets in Syria in recent years and has vowed to push back against increasing Iranian influence in its neighboring country.

The news of the alleged near-miss came amid jitters

just a month after a Ukrainian passenger plane crashed shortly after take-off from Tehran, killing all 176 people on board.

Then the three Palestinians were reportedly taken to a hospital in Ramallah. They had been swept up in a sprawling manhunt launched after a roadside bomb killed a 17-year-old Israeli girl and wounded her father and brother as they hid down to a sprung last August in the occupied West Bank. The attack increased since January 28 when US President Donald Trump released his vision for resolving the Israeli-Palestinian conflict — a plan firmly rejected by the Palestinian leadership in both the West Bank and Gaza.

It would grant Israel a number of its long held goals, including full control of disputed Jerusalem and a green light to annex all settlements and other parts of the West Bank.

In exchange the Palestinians would be offered a share in the remaining parts of the West Bank and Gaza.

Palestinians in Gaza, an enclave ruled by the Islamist movement Hamas, have launched rockets, mortar shells and balloons packed with explosives at southern Israel on a near-daily basis since the plan was unveiled.

Palestinian attacks have Kramp-Karrenbauer's announcement reflects the growing split within the Christian Democratic party in its handling of the election of a governor in the state of Thuringia.

There regional party law makers voted with the far-right Alternative for Germany party to oust the left wing incumbent, ignoring advice from former leadership.

The move broke what is widely regarded as a taboo in post-war German politics around cooperating with extremist parties.

US charges 4 Chinese military members in Equifax breach

Washington: Four members of the Chinese military have been charged with breaking into the network of the Equifax credit reporting agency and stealing the personal information of tens of millions of Americans, the Justice Department said Monday, blaming Beijing for one of the largest hacks in history.

The case comes as the Trump administration has warned against what it sees as the growing political and economic influence of China, and efforts by Beijing to collect data on Americans and steal scientific research and innovation.

"This was a deliberate and sweeping intrusion into the private information of the American people," Attorney General William Barr said in a statement. "Today, we hold PLA hackers accountable for their criminal actions, and we remind the Chinese government that we have the capability to remove the Internet's cloak of anonymity and find the hackers that nation repeatedly deploys against us," he added.
