On the battlefield, Kharkiv regional governor Oleg Synchukov said four people were injured Sunday when a Russian S-300 missile fell near an apartment block in Kharkiv...

epicenter of the fiercest fighting in Ukraine, the Ukrainian military said Sunday it had repelled Russian attacks. The founder of the mercenary group Wagner, Yevgeny Prigozhin, said in a Telegram post that Kyiv's forces were not retreating and that 'there are fierce battles for every street, every house, every stairwell.'

In the Black Sea port of Odesa, workers labored to connect temporary generators shipped in to restore electricity. The city and surrounding area were plunged into darkness over the weekend following a large-scale network failure.

Grid operator Ukrenergo said that the failure involved equipment 'repeatedly repaired' after Russia's savage strikes on Ukraine's energy grid, and that residents should brace themselves for lengthy blackouts.

As of Sunday afternoon, about 280,000 customers — 40% of the customers — remained without power, said prime minister Denis Shmyhal.

Norway to donate $7.3 billion to Ukraine as Russian forces keep up pressure as Ukraine anniversary nears (USD 1.5 billion) annually. The proposed aid package will be put to a vote in parliament. Last week, European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen said that overall, the European Union's economic, humanitarian and military support for Ukraine now amounts to almost EUR 50 billion.

Norway is not an EU member, but has given Ukraine more than 10 billion kroner (USD 1 billion) in civilian and military aid last year. 'It will lead to an increased use of oil money,' Gahr Store said, adding that he's hoping 'a large majority' in the Norwegian parliament would approve the aid package.

Russian forces are keeping Ukraine's military in the east. Russian forces have been attacking Ukrainian military positions in the east since the anniversary of the start of the war in the Donbas region...

Five of those wounded were injured during the shelling of Kharkiv city, where Russian shells struck residential buildings and a university, the presidential office said.

The Russians again fired at targets across the Dnieper River from the Russia-occupied Zaporizhzhia nuclear power plant, damaging residential buildings and power lines in Nikopol and Marhanets across the River Dnieper, Ukrainian authorities reported.

Russian forces occupied Zaporizhzhia, Europe's biggest nuclear power plant, early in the war, and regular shelling of the area stoked major safety concerns.

The UN nuclear chief is expected to visit Moscow this week to discuss safety at Zaporizhzhia, according to a senior Russian diplomat.

Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei Ryabkov would not reveal the exact date of International Atomic Energy Agency Director-General Rafael Grossi's visit to Russia, but confirmed that it is expected to take place this week and that the safety of the nuclear power plant was 'a key issue' on the agenda.

Fire damages Buddhist temple in Melbourne

AP III MELBOURNE (AUSTRALIA)

A Buddhist temple has been extensively damaged by fire in the Australian city of Melbourne. About 80 firefighters fought the blaze at the Bright Moon Buddhist Temple for more than two hours before it was brought under control late Sunday.

The damaged structure is seen at the scene of a fire at the Bright Moon Buddhist Temple in Springvale South, Melbourne on Monday. The Buddhist temple in Melbourne was extensively damaged by fire Sunday. About 80 firefighters fought the blaze at the temple. Fire investigators haven't yet determined the cause. No injuries were reported.

There were no injuries in fire visible for several kilometers (miles). The cause of the fire was not yet known, Assistant Chief Fire Officer Paul Foster said. He told Australian Broadcasting Corp. That the effort to fight the fire was done with cultural sensitivity.

'Not only is it a place of worship, it's a place of gathering for the local Buddhist community, and at all times, we were engaging with members from that community to inform them what we were doing and taking into account their concerns,' Foster said.

also have a presence in the province, which borders Iran and Afghanistan.

The Pakistani Taliban claimed responsibility for the attack, which took place on Sunday. Pakistan has been battling an insurgency in Baluchistan for more than a decade, with separatists in the province demanding complete autonomy or a larger share of the province's gas and mineral resources.

Shortly after the bombing, the Pakistani Taliban claimed responsibility, saying the attack was carried out by a suicide bomber. AP

Pope, Anglican, Presbyterian leaders denounce anti-gay laws

AP III ABOARD THE PAPAL PLANE

Pope Francis, the head of the Anglican Communion and top Presbyterian minister together denounced the criminalisation of homosexuality on Sunday and said gay people should be welcomed by their churches.

The Archbishop of Canterbury Justin Welby, right, Pope Francis left, and the Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland Ian Greenshields met the journalists during an airborne press conference aboard the airplane directed to Rome, at the end of his pastoral visit to Congo and South Sudan, on Sunday.

about Francis' recent comments 'The Associated Press, in which he declared that laws that criminalise gay people were 'unjust' and that 'being homosexual is not a crime.'

South Sudan is one of 67 countries that criminalises homosexuality. 11 of them with the death penalty. LGBT advocates say even where such laws are not applied, they contribute to a climate of harassment, discrimination and violence.

Francis referred his Jan. 24 repeated that the AP and repeated that such laws are 'unjust.' He also repeated previous comments that parents should never throw their gay children out of the house. 'To condemn someone like this is a sin,' he said. 'Criminalising people with homosexual tendencies is an injustice.' People with homosexual tendencies are children of God. God loves them. God accompanies them,' he added.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Justin Welby, recalled that LGBTQ rights were very much on the current agenda of the Church of England, and said he would quote his pope's own words when the issue is discussed at the church's upcoming General Synod. 'I wish I had spoken as eloquently and clearly as the pope.'
