DIPP starts exercise to relax FDI policy for defence sector

FTI ■ NEW DELHI The Commerce and Industry Ministry has prepared a draft Cabinet note for liberalising FDI in the defence sector to boost domestic manufacturing and reduce dependence on imported equipment.

The Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP) is waiting for the new Commerce and Industry Minister to take charge, sources said.

"We are going to propose several steps in order to boost manufacturing sector's growth and attract more FDI in sectors like defence," an official source told the news agency.

The DIPP is in the favour of raising the FDI cap in defence to 74 per cent, which includes 49 per cent under automatic route, sources said.

They added that the Cabinet note on relaxing FDI norms in railways and construction sectors will also be placed before the new minister.

The Narendra Modi-led BJP government is to take charge next week.

Although the UPA government did not change the current FDI cap in the defence sector to 26 per cent, proposals beyond that limit are not considered by the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) on case to case basis.

The outgoing defence minister A K Antony was not in favour of hiking the FDI cap. The DIPP is working on the issue of FDI in e-commerce relating. Recently it has held a meeting with all the stakeholders including Google, Amazon and Flipkart on the matter.

The existing companies have been seeking FDI in e-commerce retailing. India's FDI policy restricts e-commerce companies from offering services directly to retail consumers. At present, 100 per cent FDI is allowed in business-to-business (B2B) e-commerce but not in retail trading.

In May 2010, DIPP had rolled out a discussion paper suggesting increasing FDI cap in the defence sector.

India opened up the private equipment industry to defence sector in May 2001, but restricted foreign participation to 26 per cent in this capital-intensive and sensitive sector.

India is one of the largest defence importers in the world with a minuscule component of exports. It ranks among the top ten countries in the world in terms of military expenditure.

India at present imports over $8 billion worth of defence equipment and its defence budget is growing at an average of 13.4 per cent annually since 2006-07. The bulk of the domestic production is met either through the Ordnance

Factories or the Defence PSUs. Even when defence products are manufactured domestically, there is a large component of imported sub-systems. DIPP has imported sub-systems, DIPP

9 Indian firms in Forbes most innovative growth list

FTI ■ NEW YORK As many as nine Indian firms have made it to the Forbes World's 100 most innovative growth companies list, which has been topped by New Zealand software accounting firm Xero.

The list has been made on the basis of Innovation Premium, which Forbes described as a measure of how much investors have bid up the stock price of a company above the value of its existing business based on expectations of future innovative results (new products, services and markets).

Among the Indian companies, Godrej Consumer Products led the pack and was ranked 31st globally on the list with an enterprise value of $ 4.25 billion. Godrej Consumer Products was founded on November 29, 2000 and its brands include Good knight, Cintoil, Godrej No. 1, Expert and Ezee; and it has an innovation premium of 58.7 per cent.

Other Indian firms on the list include ABB India, Marico, United Breweries, Siemens India, Asian Paints, Nestle India, Colgate-Palmolive India and Divi's Labs.

ABB India is ranked 37th with an enterprise value of $ 2.7 billion and innovation premium of 56.4 per cent. Only those companies were considered which have market value less than $ 10 billion, spend at least 1 per cent of their asset base on R&D and have seven years of public data.

Marico was ranked 53rd, with innovation premium of 52.8 per cent, United Breweries (60, 51.5 per cent), Siemens India (63, 50.3 per cent), Asian Paints (76, 48.7 per cent), Nestle India (78, 48.3 per cent), Colgate-Palmolive India (87, 46.8 per cent) and Divi's Laboratories (99, 45.5 per cent).

"Our method relies on investors' ability to identify firms they expect to be innovative now and in the future," Forbes said.

The list excludes energy and mining firms, whose market value is tied more to commodity prices than to innovation.

The overall list was topped by Xero, which enjoys an innovation premium of as high as 91.7 per cent, followed by NetSuite (2nd, 89 per cent), Amazon (3rd, 85.6 per cent), Autodesk (4th, 82.4 per cent) and DuxComm (5th, 82.3 per cent).

Others in the top 10 include ASOS ranked 6th with an innovation premium of 78.1 per cent, followed by Athenahealth (7th, 77.2 per cent), Ultimate Software (8th, 74.3 per cent), M3 (9th, 74.3 per cent) and Concur Technologies (10th, 72.1 per cent).

Sony boss pledges turnaround exit by early next year

WE WILL COMPLETE THE STRUCTURAL REFORM OF OUR ELECTRONICS BUSINESS (IN THE FISCAL YEAR TO MARCH 2015), IN ORDER TO TRANSITION SONY TO A HIGH PROFITABILITY STRUCTURE AND DELIVER SUSTAINED GROWTH

SONY'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE KAZUO HIRAI

AFP ■ TOKYO Sony's chief executive pledged on Thursday to drag the embattled electronics giant out of a painful restructuring in the current fiscal year and pointed to high-definition technology as a possible saviour for its money-losing TV unit.

Kazuo Hirai made the comments as he unveiled Sony's newest turnaround strategy, just a week after the Japanese company posted a $ 1.26 billion annual loss.

Much of that red ink stemmed from costs tied to restructuring in the current fiscal year and pointed to high-definition technology as a possible saviour for its money-losing TV unit.

"I would urge you and your (Swiss) government to ratify the multilateral convention on mutual administrative assistance in tax matters as early as possible," outgoing Finance Minister P Chidambaram has said in a letter to Swiss counterpart Eveline Widmer-Schlumpf.

"Once you ratify the convention, I am confident that your government will abide by its obligation under the declaration as well as under the declaration that your country signed on May 6, 2014," he added. India and a large number of other countries, including Switzerland, had adopted a global declaration for automatic exchange of tax information under auspices of OECD.

TV losses narrowed in the past year as the management slashed costs, and Hirai said he expected it would post a profit this year.

Unilever announces sale of US Ragu sauces for $2.15 billion

AFP ■ THE HAGUE Dutch giant Unilever announced on Thursday the sale of its North American Ragu and Bertolli pasta sauce businesses to a Japanese group for $ 2.15 billion (1.57 billion euros) as it focuses on higher margin beauty products.

Japan's Mizkan Group bought the businesses, which have an annual turnover of more than $ 600 million, and include two production facilities in Kentucky and California, Unilever said in a statement.

"This sale represents one of the final steps in reshaping our portfolio in North America to deliver sustainable growth for Unilever," said Unilever North America boss Kees Kruythoff.

Analysts said that the sauce sale was part of Unilever's global strategy to focus more on cosmetics, which have a higher profit margin, rather than food, with which it has become difficult to make gains in the competitive Indian and Chinese markets.

Unilever sales of personal care products rose by 7.3 per cent in 2013, compared to 0.3 per cent for food sales during the same period.

The sale is expected to be finalised by the end of June. Founded in 1930, Unilever is one of the world's leading suppliers of consumer goods and owns a variety of brands such as Lipton Yellow Label tea, Magnum ice cream, Knorr, Omo washing powder, Nestle. The company employs over 1.73,000 people worldwide.

India asks Switzerland to ratify global tax convention

New Govt should go for strategic sale for non-core PSUs, says DoD

PNS ■ NEW DELHI The new Government could look at the possibility of strategic sale of state-owned enterprises in the non-core sectors like steel and cement, the disinvestment department said in its presentation to the Cabinet Secretary.

The move to divest entire stake in the non-strategic PSUs, the official said, will also help in meeting the ambitious disinvestment target of $ 51,925 crore this fiscal.

Alternatively, the official suggested, the government could follow the existing practice of piecemeal stake sale in state-owned companies.

The strategic sale, however, could be a better option as it would allow the government in realising the true value of the investments made in setting up of the PSU.

These views formed part of the suggestions made by the disinvestment department at the meeting of Directors of the Company held on Friday, 20th May, 2014 at 11:30 AM at the Cabinet Secretary's Office, New Delhi.

The official said non-strategic PSUs from which the government could easily exit relate to sectors like cement, steel, textiles, fertiliser, petrochemical and transport equipments. The government, the official added, could keep its control over sectors like petroleum, heavy engineering, power.

As per the interim budget presented in February, the UPA government proposed to mobilise Rs 15,000 crore from the state sale in HZL and Balco. Further, it hopes to garner Rs 36,925 crore from disinvestment in different PSUs in 2014-15. The Government expects to sell its remaining stake in Hindustan Zinc (HZL) and Balco in 2014-15. It sold majority stakes in the two companies to the Vedanta Group during 2001-2003 and now holds 29.54 per cent in HZL and 49 per cent in Bharat Aluminium Company (Balco).

AI put on cash-and-carry mode by Mumbai Airport authorities

PTI ■ MUMBAI NEW DELHI Air India has been put on cash-and-carry mode by Mumbai Airport authorities after its dues mounted to Rs 450 crore even as the airline today said it has paid about Rs 40 crore and certain outstanding were yet to be reconciled.

The GVK Mumbai International Airport Limited (MIAL), which runs the city airport, yesterday communicated its decision to the Air India management, MIAL sources said, adding that the airline has been put on cash-and-carry mode as it has failed to clear the dues in the required time. Normally, airlines use airport services on credit but when the dues mount, they are asked instead to pay cash on a daily basis for availing the facilities.

The dues relate to various airport charges like those for landing, navigation, parking and other services, which an airline has to pay to the airport operator.

The national carrier, the sources said, has been told to pay at least Rs 200 crore by June if it wanted to be taken off from the cash-and-carry mode. "As of now their cumulative dues stand at Rs 450 crore," they said. Discounting this, senior Air India officials told the news agency that the airline had paid Rs 650 crore to GMRI-led Delhi International Airport Limited (DIAL) and over Rs 100 crore to MIAL in 2013-14 to clear its backlog.
